THURSDAY, JUNE 8

It is getting about time to put the accent on the "Ran" in Carranza.

The Seydlitz, another German dreadnaught cruiser of large size, was last heard from seeking safety in the vicinity of Jutland, pursued by British warships.

A German report says the Jutland sea battle was fought at a range of eight miles at first and that superior marksmanship counted on the German side. Germany claims 27 German vessels fought 35 British warships.

The entire democratic ticket was elected by a substantial majority at Chicago's judicial election Monday. The bridge bond issue of more than $5,000,000 and the electric light extension bond issue carried. The issue for a new criminal court building failed. Seven superior court judges were elected.

Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, Monday took his seat as an associate justice of the supreme court, the sixty-second citizen to rise to that high distinction. He was escorted to his seat on the extreme left on the bench, where he received the congratulations of the colleague nearest him, Justice Pitney.

Captain Herbert J. Hirsinger, of the Marine Corps, was shot and killed during the landing of United States forces at Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, Sunday. He was a native of Georgia, aged 42, and was appointed to the corps in 1910 from North Carolina. He leaves a widow and young daughter, living in Boston.

Attorney General Bickett has a majority of approximately 25,000 votes over Lieutenant Gov. Daughtridge in the gubernatorial race on returns from 62 out of 100 counties received from North Carolina primaries. Representative Claude Kitchen carried every county in his district over Clingman W. Mitchell, and his majority will be about 7,000.

Ben Ali Haggin, son of the late James B. Haggin, owner of Elmen-dorf stock farm, in Fayette county, near Lexington, Ky., and who recently came into a fortune estimated at $10,000,000 has married Bonnie Glass, the actress, a former dancing partner of Al Davis, in New York. He recently got a divorce from his first wife, who was Miss Faith Robinson.

If the truth is being told by Mexicans claiming to know, Villa is in retirement on a ranch not a hundred miles distance from the place in Southern Chihuahua, where he ordered the execution of William Benton, the British subject, in 1914. He has made several excursions in Durango and the Torreón district and has been in frequent conference with men now claiming allegiance to the de facto government.

Reversing decisions of state courts Kentucky and other states, the supreme court Monday held that juries should be instructed that in awarding damages under the federal employers liability law that "fair cash value" of the damages suffered by the beneficiaries of employees injured or killed, should be awarded, rather than a sum equal to the full amount of money the beneficiaries would have received during the period of dependency. The court set aside a $19,000 verdict rendered in Montgomery county, Kentucky, in favor of Addie Kelly, widow of Matt

TEST OF GERMAN DISCIPLINE

Private Soldier Who Had Undergone Serious Operation Eager to Obey Superior Officer.

"A friend of mine who has a small hospital in Lancashire told me that she had among the wounded two Germans," writes Lady Randolph Churchill in Pearson's Magazine. "One, an officer of sixty years of age, with a bullet in his leg, and a young private who, owing to a very severe wound in his head, had to be trepanned. As the accommodation was limited, they were put in the same room. A few days after the operation a nurse, coming in, found the private up and struggling to put on his clothes. Horrified, she exclaimed, 'What on earth are you doing out of bed?'"

"The officer answered for him: 'I wanted a glass of water.'"

"But," explained the nurse, 'he has had a serious operation and must be kept quiet; this may kill him.'"

"I wanted a glass of water, and I am his superior officer," was all the colonel would say.

"The private thought it quite natural, but after that an orderly was put in the room."

THINKING OF JULY FOURTH

"What's the matter with Rastus?" "He's been gittin' married agin, sah!"

"What is he making so much noise for?"

"It's his fourth, sah; an' he's jes celebratin'."

Pictures in the Home.

No one can tell you what pictures to hang on your walls—that is a matter of individual taste. But an attempt should be made to have the pictures harmonize, not only with the others in the same room, but with the background. Many rooms having restful, harmonious wall colors are spoiled by the variety in frames and mats, or by the groupings of the pictures; also by putting into a small room a picture that needs distance to bring out its full meaning. It is not necessary to have the pictures all the work of one artist, or all on the same subject, but they should harmonize in tone and style of frame.—Alice Mc Foely.

Could Not Write.

Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Elisha Green, of this place, says: "I could not write all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug store.—Advertisement.

THE WRONG KIND.

"Mrs. Twobble and I never have a cross word," said Mr. Twobble, proudly.

"How do you manage?" asked Mr. Dubwaite.

"We have learned to make mutual concessions, but that doesn't help matters at all."

"I don't understand."

"She concedes that I am a fool, and I concede that she has a shrewish tongue. Then the battle begins."

KERMET'S KICK.

"I don't like our old doctor," remarked little Kermet.

"Why not?" queried his aunt.

"Because," answered the youngster, "last week I caught a cold bad enough to keep me out of school ten days, and he went and cured it in twenty-four hours."

HAD TO BE CAREFUL.

"In olden times knights were very careful about getting a blot on the escutcheon."

"Well, they had no blotting paper in those days."

GROUND LIGHTS IN WARFARE

Used to Illuminate Actual Territory Over Which Enemy May Advance—Prevent Attacks.

Whenever there is a night attack the battlefield is made almost as light as day by means of searchlights, special star shells which burst in the sky and throw out a brilliant light, and ground lights. These ground lights are used to illuminate the actual ground over which the enemy may advance, and many thousands have been used by English soldiers, especially when the two lines of trenches are very close to one another.

The lights consist of a skeleton circular frame of iron covered over with canvas and filled with a composition of resin, tar and other combustibles. As a rule they are fired from trench mortars towards the German wire entanglements, a short fuse lighting the composition. This burns with a dazzling flame for a quarter of an hour or more, and as long as it is burning the surroundings are lighted up sufficiently to prevent any German attack being made without instantly being seen.

WHAT MORE COULD YOU ASK

"You are charged with nonsupport of your wife? What have you to say for yourself?"

"Well, judge, I done got her three more washings a week than any other cullud lady in de block."

NO MONEY RETURNED.

"Do you mean to say you won't give me my money back for this book just because I have read it?"

"Yes, madam, but what is the matter? Is the print imperfect, or anything like that?"

"No."

"Then why are you not satisfied with the novel?"

"Why, I don't like the way it ends."—Harper's Weekly.

A HARASSED "LION."

"Do you see that little man over there in the corner trying to answer questions put to him by half a dozen different women at the same time?"

"Of course I see him. Poor devil!"

"Well, he's a famous explorer. He's made some important discoveries."

"Hum. He looks to me now as if he would be tickled to death if he could discover some way out of his difficulties."

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I wish to say to my friends and acquaintances that I have been connected with the Keach Furniture Company, for some time and will be connected with the Undertaking Department as a licensed Undertaker from now on.
